The Mihaylo Full-time MBA program answers the calls industry has made of MBA programs for decades that programs do not develop students with interpersonal and soft skills. This program directly answers that challenge with an MBA providing development of specific leadership, interpersonal and business-acumen skills, along with the top flight world-class, in-depth functional knowledge for which we’ve always been known.

There are plenty of choices for an MBA in the marketplace, so we designed the Mihaylo Full-time MBA differently. It is time to choose a program that challenges you to both learn and demonstrate your knowledge.

This intensive and valuable experience happens between the first and second semesters and provides opportunities to learn about business practices first-hand from companies and executives, and engaging in a learning environment in a foreign location. Testing out effective practices and interpersonal skills in the “living laboratory” of an international environment is an irreplaceable component of the MBA degree.
