Our program serves teachers who need to clear their multiple or single subject credential, but for whom induction is unavailable. Individualized learning experiences based on the participants’ particular teaching/learning context will be addressed. Participants enroll in three classes and receive nine units of graduate credit. Up to nine units may apply to Cal State Fullerton’s master’s degrees in Curriculum and Instruction and Secondary Education. Contact the Graduate Program Advisor for your program in order to assess the number of units that may be transferable.

Clear your credential with entirely online program

Our program allows you to work around your schedule. You can complete the program in two years by taking one class per semester. Courses must be taken in the prescribed order (listed above).

Courses: 4

Time Commitment: 2 years

Approximate Cost: $5,598

When you invest with us, you can do it knowing we’re right there with you, investing in you and your future education. Participants receive onsite face-to-face support from a local provider as well as opportunities to interact online with their cohort.

* This is an approximate cost of completing the certificate program at 2017-2018 tuition rates. Tuition is subject to change at any time without further notice.
